Alyssa Williams

Alyssa Williams was appointed as Acting Assistant Director of the Illinois Department of Corrections in July 2022. She is responsible for oversight of facility Operations, Programs, Office of Health Services, the Parole Division and Office of Operations Excellence. Prior to her work in Illinois, Ms. Williams was employed as a Forensic Therapist at Western State Hospital in Steilacoom, Washington. She earned a bachelor's degree in Psychology from Bradley University and a master's degree in Psychology from Chapman University.

Dr. Lily Gleicher

Dr. Lily Gleicher is a Senior Supervisory Research Scientist for the Bail Project and is passionate about criminal and youth legal system reform. Lily's interests include the implementation and sustainability of evidence-based practices and policies; correctional treatment and rehabilitation, including diversion; pretrial and court decision-making; probation, parole, and reentry; social and racial justice; and the nexus between system-involved individuals and behavioral and public health. Lily received her B.A. in political science from the University of Connecticut and her M.S. and Ph.D. in Criminal Justice from the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Megan Alderden

Dr. Megan Alderden is an Associate Professor and Department Chair of Criminology at DePaul University. Her areas of expertise include victimology, policing, and program evaluation. She is interested in how metrics can be used to improve and strengthen police reform efforts and the potential for alternative metrics to traditional measures like recidivism to inform program implementation. Prior to joining DePaul, Dr. Alderden was the Research Director for the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority
